

Watertight Homes Expands Specialist Damp Proofing Services Across Pontefract

September 17, 2026

Derbyshire, England - September 17, 2026 -

Watertight Homes Ltd has expanded its property care and preservation services throughout Pontefract and the surrounding areas of West Yorkshire, offering residential and commercial property owners access to a comprehensive range of damp treatment and structural waterproofing solutions.

The expansion brings coverage to communities including Pontefract town centre, Monkhill, Chequerfield, Beech Hill, Carleton, Tanshelf, Halfpenny Lane, Larks Hill, North Featherstone, and Knottingley. Property owners across these areas can now access services ranging from rising damp treatment and penetrating damp treatment to basement damp proofing, cellar damp proofing, and structural damp proofing.

Damp-related problems remain a persistent concern for property owners in older housing stock, where issues such as rising damp, penetrating damp, and condensation can compromise structural integrity and contribute to health problems for occupants. Watertight Homes - Damp Proofing Pontefract addresses these concerns through diagnostic surveys and remedial treatments tailored to each property.

The company's Pontefract service list includes damp and timber surveys, condensation control, mould prevention and treatment, humidity control, wall tie replacement, and treatment for woodworm, dry rot, and wet rot. These services extend to both domestic households and commercial premises across the region.

Mathew Milner, speaking for Watertight Homes, explained the reasoning behind the expanded local focus. "Pontefract contains a significant amount of period and older property, and with that comes a heightened likelihood of damp and timber issues developing over time," said Milner. "Extending structured coverage across these neighbourhoods means residents can obtain proper diagnosis and treatment from surveyors who understand the local building types and conditions."

Watertight Homes is BBA accredited and Triton approved, and its remedial work is backed by a ten-year guarantee. The company has received five-star ratings on Which?, reflecting its record with previous clients across Yorkshire.

Beyond damp proofing, the company offers basement conversions that transform underused cellar spaces into functional rooms, alongside basement waterproofing, basement tanking, and structural waterproofing designed to keep below-ground areas dry. Additional services include cavity wall tie repair and replacement, timber preservation, and treatment for wet rot and woodworm infestations.

"Damp is rarely a cosmetic issue alone," Milner added. "Left untreated, it can affect timber, plaster, and the long-term condition of a building. The aim is to identify the underlying cause first, then apply a lasting remedy rather than simply masking the symptoms."

The company approaches each project with an initial survey to establish the source and extent of the problem before recommending an appropriate course of treatment. This diagnostic method applies across the full range of services, from condensation and humidity control in occupied homes to structural waterproofing in commercial buildings.
